

The Fox and the Village

Issued by Student Village

7 Mar 2022

Once upon a time there was a brewery called Heineken that wanted to drive trial of their new apple cider to a kingdom of young, smart and attractive students. They searched far and wide for the right agency, until one day they happened upon a village - Student Village...

In every fable there's always a moral to the story. For Heineken's new apple cider, Fox, it was learning that if you want to drive trial with students it's best to engage on their level, with people they know and trust.

The sampling strategy for Fox was simple: leverage our extensive network of influencers to promote and activate the brand through 250 micro-activations over the festive season.

Students were encouraged to taste and experience the "bev" by becoming a part of the #FoxNation. Every activation was designed to create a memorable, shareable experience that blew up and grew into a real success story.

Social media reach: 3,050,622

Social media engagements: 27,660

Positive sentiment on social media: 88%

Overall engagement: 63%

Units sampled: 170,000

"Sampling 170,000 units to students is no small task, but Student Village managed to exceed our expectations in every way. We're excited to continue growing the #FoxNation together throughout the coming months." - Warrick Wyngaard, brand manager, Fox and Sol.

And so, working with Student Village, Fox soon became loved by many-a-student across the land. And they all partied happily ever after.
