

Court urged to restrain implementation of advertising code

Abdulwahab Abdulah, today, 5 August 2013, reported on Vanguard that the Newspapers Proprietors Association of Nigeria (NPAN) has "urged the Court of Appeal to restrain the Advertising Practitioners Council of Nigeria (APCON) from implementing the advertising code, which empowers it to vet and approve adverts before publication by print media in the country."

For more:

- Vanguard: NPAN in Appeal Court over APCON's Advertising Code...
- Nigerian Tribune: NPAN wants court to stop APCON from harassing its members...

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>