

NMPi names new operations director

NMPi has selected Michelle Clarke as its new operations director as part of its group strategy to provide country-specific support from a team based in Cape Town.

Clarke is to make sure that operational processes continue NMPi's ability to have a client and country-specific proposition in her new role.

Clarke's new main focuses will be strategic management, resource management and operational management.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>