

Thapelo Letete joins ERM as its new technical director

Environmental chemical engineer Thapelo Letete has been named ERM's new technical director. Letete has more than 11 years' experience in the environmental sustainability sector with specific expertise in various facets of climate change.

Before his appointment at ERM, Letete worked as the director for climate change mitigation, emissions monitoring, and evaluation at the Department of Environmental Affairs. Letete is also a certified developed country submissions GHG inventory expert reviewer in accordance with the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change and its associated Kyoto Protocol and biennial update reports of non-annex one parties.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>