Carbon Black, Fortinet combine forces for new product

Carbon Black and Fortinet have combined their expertise, in endpoint security and enterprise respectively, to provide automated protection against advanced threats and previously unknown malware.

The companies are also both vendor partners in Networks Unlimited Southern Africa.

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com