

Ford Motor Company South Africa appoints Artie Jina as its director of parts supply and logistics

Ford Motor Company South Africa (FMCSA) has promoted Artie Jina to the position of director of parts supply and logistics. Her previous position at Ford was vehicle logistics manager.

She joined FMCSA 10 years ago, in July 2012, in the parts supply and logistics division, where she handled the export and import of Ford parts. Her responsibilities included managing both global and local supply chains and logistics service providers, as well as engaging dealers locally and globally.
