

Avaya appoints new leadership

Avaya, a global leader in business communications software, systems and services, is making changes to its executive team to drive growth in the Southern Africa Development Community (SADC) region. Danny Drew has been appointed managing director for South Africa, while Selvin Kristnen has been appointed business development director for the SADC region.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>