

Norwegian Cruise Line announces suspension extension

Norwegian Cruise Line Holdings has extended its previously announced suspension of global cruise voyages to include voyages embarking between 1 August and 30 September 2020 for its three cruise brands. The company is also cancelling selected voyages scheduled for October 2020, including Canada and New England sailings, due to travel and port restrictions.

The voyage suspension contributes to global efforts to contain the spread of Covid-19. The company will continue to work in tandem with the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the federal government and global public health authorities to take all necessary precautions to ensure the health, safety and security of guests, crew, and the communities visited.

Guests who are currently booked on cancelled voyages on Norwegian Cruise Line, Oceania Cruises or Regent Seven Seas Cruises are asked to contact their travel agent or the cruise line for more information.
