

Debbie McIntyre appointed head of insights at Caxton Magazines

Debbie McIntyre has been tasked with building and running a department with the objective to create and increase advertising revenue through the use of research and analytics. This data would be used for campaigns as well as a guide for the strategic development of the company.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>