

Mugg & Bean implements new payment method for customers

Restaurant company Mugg & Bean has made Samsung Pay available as a payment option at its sit down and on-the-go restaurants across the country.

Customers of Mugg & Bean that are also users of the recently unveiled Samsung Pay application may now pay their bill using a compatible Samsung Galaxy device with an enrolled card from a supporting bank.

Samsung Pay, which uses both MST and NFC technology, is available for download in the Google Play Store.
