1 Jun 2017

Madelein de Beer, Head of our Datasignis Division and Director at Praesignis, has been nominated by clients and industry peers and selected as a finalist in the 2017 Africa's Most Influential Women in Business and Government Awards.

This award shortlisting acknowledges Madelein's 21-year career in data management and business intelligence. A proven data management and BI specialist, Madelein has made a significant contribution to business in the data and business intelligence arena. She has successfully completed work on major projects across various industries including education, healthcare, retail, mining, telecom, government and financial institutions.

The awards uplift, celebrate and recognise women and men for their achievements and the role they have played in their sector, industry, career and communities.

The winners will be announced during the months of July to September 2017.

Well done, Madelein! We wish you all the best.
