About the role

The goal of the Content Creator is to film, edit, innovate and own GVI's video marketing content across all our marketing platforms including social media, ensuring it is engaging, impactful and of the highest quality.

Location

Remote but close to a central airport as this role involves extensive travel

Description

GVI is looking for a Content Creator to film, edit and package approximately 60 pieces of video content monthly for both social media and other marketing platforms that will appeal to our international Gen Z audience.

This job is for you if:

You know how to film, edit and package engaging content for an international Gen Z audience

You're passionate about film, editing and visual storytelling - we need someone who can own the video at GVI and leverage the impactful stories from our global bases to craft engaging content

You want the unique opportunity to travel to remote locations across the globe to capture the footage you'll need to create engaging, high-quality video content.

☐ You are great with people and thrive working collaboratively with a team of creatives

Reporting to the head of marketing operations, this role will be responsible for filming, editing and packaging approximately 60 pieces of video content monthly for both social media and other marketing platforms that will appeal to our international Gen Z audience. You'll work closely with our social media manager, our communications strategist and our creative delivery manager to produce the required content and using your skillset, provide feedback on briefs and guidance to our external regional content creators and hubs. You'll split your time between travelling the world to film on location at our global hubs and editing content using a combination of the footage you've captured, our existing footage libraries, content captured by our local bases and stock footage.

Role and responsibilities

- Filming
- Travel quarterly to our global bases to capture video content for our marketing platforms.
- Contribute to pre-production planning sessions with our global bases to ensure that each filming trip is set up for success.
- Conduct yourself in a professional manner and positively represent GVI when filming on bases and working with our field staff and participants with minimal disruption to the day-to-day operations of our bases. .
- Fully own video content at GVI and identify filming opportunities to contribute to and expand our video offerings.
- Editing
- Edit and package engaging video content for organic social media according to briefs created by our social media manager and in line with our social media strategy ensuring that this content is optimised for each of our social media platforms (TikTok, Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn)
- Edit and package effective video adverts according to briefs created by our communications strategist in line with our paid media strategy
- Edit and package engaging video content for our other marketing platforms such as our websites and newsletters.
- Collaborating and conceptualisation
- Work closely with our social media manager, our communications strategist, our creative delivery manager and the rest of the marketing team where applicable to conceptualise video content for our various marketing channels.
- Briefing and quality control
- Collaborate with the social media manager and creative delivery manager on briefs to ensure that footage requirements are clear and in line with what is required for your edits.
- Review briefs to regional content creators and our global bases to ensure that these adhere to video best practices in order to maintain consistent quality across all our content.
- Review content submitted by external content creators and from our global hub to ensure it meets our technical and quality standards.
- Training
- Provide training to our global hubs on basic filming best practices to empower them to capture effective footage in the field.
- Share your knowledge with and train the wider GVI marketing team where requested.
- Media Management
- Manage and organise the library of raw and edited video and photo content for all brands.
- Create and optimise processes for receiving video content from various sources.
- Operations

- Ensure deliverables are submitted on time and on brief
- Assist the team with other marketing activities as and when required.
- Communicate clearly and timeously with the Operations team, following the marketing team's briefing, review and submission processes to ensure effective team collaboration and task management via our project management platform.

☀️ About you
