A number of the articles in the first issue will highlight the entrepreneurial spirit of the Zimbabwean countrymen and women - both in the country and wherever they have been dispersed in the global village.

Special attention will also be given to coverage of gender and human rights issues, national healing, and moving forward with nation-building.

The first new issue is available in Zimbabwe, South Africa and the UK from today and stories will appear on www.thezimbabwean.co.uk.
